

Business Stories 101

A collection of short business stories (parables) --similar to Who Moved My Cheese--that help executives, consultants, sales people, managers, instructors, and business people make their point. The art of story telling has been replaced by fancy powerpoint presentations. Management Consultant and Novelist (and currently Adjunct Professor at the Drucker School in Claremont), Joseph Lee, shares stories that had worked throughout his career international consulting career. From an incident at the Salvatore Ferragamo store to a hilarious story about all star pitcher Hideo Nomo, Joseph tells us why stories move us and leave audiences with lasting memories. The book is scheduled to be published in bilingual format in Japan in Fall, 2008. This is a pre-publish US (English) only version and contains some formatting glitches, so will be available for the pre-release price of only $6.00.
