

Mantle of Light: Stewards of the Light Book One

Theon and Dru (Drusilda) have known each other since they were children and have loved each other almost as long. Their desire is to wed and raise a family which is obedient to the dictates of the True God, the Heavenly Father, who leads all those who pursue the Path of Light. However, Theon is a Prince of Brestan and the heir to the throne, while Dru is the Princess of Arden and heir to that throne. Political considerations make their union unlikely until events occur which make their marriage not only possible, but highly desirable. The plan is to marry not only the couple, but the kingdoms of Brestan and Arden, as well. On the day they are wed, Dru is abducted by Felipe a servant of Ludrick, despotic king of Nerlan and an adherent of None, the Deceiver. Not only does he want to block the merger of the two kingdoms, but he wants to wed Dru to provide him with an heir that will rule the continent. Theon takes on the quest of recovering his bride, but to do so, seeks the help of the Father. Theon learns that this quest has an additional purpose: To help him learn more fully how to follow the dictates of the Father and how to govern an enlightened kingdom. Emir, a Servant of the Father, is assigned to guide Theon in learning these lessons. He is also accompanied on his quest by his brothers, Alexander and Galen, as well as Marchant, an armsman of great skill. Will Theon and his companions be able to rescue Dru? .
