

Carolyn & Cancer: Some Days I Dont Feel Like Slaying Dragons

The late Carolyn Schreuer, devoted wife, mother, and teacher, was in her mid-40s when diagnosed with breast cancer. Before succumbing, she spent several years putting her valuable advice into Carolyn & Cancer: Some Days I Dont Feel Like Slaying Dragons, an insightful must-read for anyone facing serious, even terminal, illness. When I started this journey I had no idea what I was about to face. It is my hope, if you find yourself faced with some daunting battle, that you too, will find your own silver lining. Here is my bent, twisted, at times unexpectedly humorous, brutally honest account of what I experienced. - Carolyn Schreuer I was one of the lucky people to have shared my life with this awesome lady for over thirty years. Carolyn wanted to be a published author, so were posthumously fulfilling her dream and helping others on their journey. This is her story, advice and observations on the toughest part of her life. - Wayne Schreuer
