

Caught in a Past Reflection

Asa Blanchard is a 23-year old graduate student who lives in the Colonial Williamsburg Silversmiths shop. One day he meets Rebecca Lane, an 18-year old high school graduate who works in the Milliners shop. They share lunches and explore hidden corners of the historical area. They find a mysterious mirror in a clearing in nearby woods and discover that the mirror is a time portal that extends into the past. Rebecca impulsively decides to go through the portal. She leaves Asa a note expressing her love for him. Asa is torn but decides he must follow her through the portal and convince her to return. They are both trapped in 1798. In their new lives, Asa uses his skill as a silversmith, while Rebecca becomes a skilled seamstress. With these skills and a few secret items from the future, they adapt and survive through a series of adventures as they grow together, migrate to Kentucky, and experience life in the early 19th century. An inspiring story of two young adults falling in love and surviving being caught in a past reflection. jjeffcochran.com
