

Train Like a Rockstar: Speaking Tips from a Stand-Up Comedian

Imagine attending the worlds most preeminent trade show about training education and all the presenters/trainers are AWFUL! At a tradeshow about training?!?!? Something..had..to..be..done. In Train Like a Rockstar: Speaking Tips from a Stand-Up Comedian, Jeff Birk puts his 25+ years experience as a headlining comedian and Fortune 500 corporate trainer into this fantastic, no-frills heres the way you do it book. Presenters, trainers and public speakers at any level will learn techniques and skills stemming from the authors thousands of hours on comedy club stages, corporate event keynoting and trade show presentations. Topics include: - Humor techniques for public speaking and/or training - How to capture your audience in your first two minutes - Memorization strategies - Storytelling methods that move hearts as well as create laughter - How to handle bored, busy or booing audience members - Lists of jokes to use for a variety of industries, and much more Its not just about being funnier. Jeffs is a balanced approach combining numerous tactics which result in helping one communicate better and make a lasting impression. We all know what its like to sit through a death by PowerPoint presentation which lacks flow, stories, humor, a call to action or any direction at all. This book will not only help those seeking to be better public speakers but will also cause your attendees to leave your presentations saying, That was the best presentation Ive ever seen.
