

Gentle Sailing Route to the Mediterranean

There are several ways of getting your boat to the Mediterranean. On the back of a lorry, via the French canals, four or five days non stop across the Bay of Biscay then down the Portuguese coast or spend the summer or two, gently coasting southwards, enjoying the harbours, cities, towns and villages of France Spain and Portugal. This is not a pilot book, rather a passage plan and guide to the nicer places between the South Coast of the UK to the beautiful Mediterranean Sea. It can all be done in easy stages, to suit a lightly crewed boat, with perhaps only a couple of people on board who are without offshore experience. Actually, it is a lovely way to explore a lot of delightful foreign places.
