

The Boy with the Pig Nose

The Boy with the Pig Nose, written by Kenneth A OShaughnessy and illustrated by Kenneth A OShaughnessy and Andrew Cannon OShaughnessy is a story about accepting others for who they are. A mother is bothered by her sons pig nose, and wants something done about it. As her son changes, she is surprised to discover that it is her thoughts that really needed to change. The whimsical illustrations are claymation figures made by Kenneth and his 8 year old son Andy, for whom the story was created several years ago. This is their first book together.
