

Imitation Of Christ Nelsons Royal Classics

The premier line of Classic literature from the greatest Christian authors. The finest in quality and value. The Imitation of Christ is a collection of spiritual sayings on a variety of themes. Thomas a Kempis quoted the Bible most of all--mainly the psalms, the words of Jesus, and the epistles of Paul--but he also used quotations from Augustine, Bernard of Clairvaux, and a number of the German mystics, including Eckhart, Tauler, Suso, and Ruysbroeck. Because of such a variety of sources, it is difficult to generalize about the book's content; but it is possible to detect a point of view. For Thomas a Kempis, the Christian life consisted chiefly in who we are, not just what we know or believe.
