

Telecommunications, Film and Video (Just the Job!)

Those interested in a career in communications, computers, would-be presenters, sound engineers, and lighting technicians can start here in this guide to get a realistic picture of career entry routes, job opportunities and prospects in the ever-changing world of work. The Just the job! series provides accessible information for young people on nearly all job areas and the many education, training and career options. It is intended to generate ideas and stretch horizons of interest and possibility. Each book gives a broad overview of a popular area or type of work, and a concise breakdown of the individual jobs and career possibilities within it. It is aimed at school and college leavers (16-18+) and their parents, adults looking for retraining ideas and career-change options, careers libraries in schools and colleges.
