

Why Women Want What They Cant Have & Men Want What They Had After Its Gone!

This book discusses the world of gender differences and how they impact relationships and marriages. Peter Sacco, Ph. D., examines and discusses: Why do women continually settle for less than ideal mates? Why are so many men threatened by changes in relationships? Why do women take back cheaters and abusers? Why are the differences in gender communication between women and men still so great? and Why do men in good relationships feel the need to cheat?
