A 2013 Midwest Book Awards First Place Winner! Nourishing the Grieving Heart: Reflections and Paths for Healing provides the reader with an invitation to gently enter into their personal grief journey. It is not a how to book nor does it suggest that there is a right way to grieve. It will speak to those at any point in the grieving process. Through the poignant reflections and beautiful companion photographs, voice is given to the inner words and feelings experienced during a time of loss. Its content is timeless and, with reverence, the book becomes a compassionate witness to the grieving heart and paths toward healing.
