

Peace of Mind Investing

About the Book: When you're retired or planning to retire in the next 5-15 years, it's time to get serious about investing. Hunches and stock tips won't do; the stakes are too great. Big losses are no longer tolerable; your portfolio has to last. As CEO of Disciplined Investment Management, Larry Stein advises high net worth clients with accounts of $1 million or more. Rather than try to beat the market, he focuses on managing risk, achieving his clients' goals and providing them with peace of mind. Peace of Mind Investing gives you an inside look at his approach, and how you can: Gain peace of mind by managing risk. Create a simple, low-cost portfolio that can outperform most investment funds. Take advantage of the edge you have over investment institutions. Generate income effectively in today's world of low interest rates. Read Peace of Mind Investing: get the returns you need and the peace of mind you deserve.
