

Reflections for Daily Prayer: Advent 2010 to Christ the King 2011

The news that the Reflections series was to cease publication prompted an unprecedented outpouring of support from readers and retailers alike. This new annual edition overcomes the risks associated with publications with a very limited shelf life. Readers will be able to save money and enjoy the same high standard of spiritual and theological writing that they have come to value. The same team of writers and editors who made Reflections so popular continue to offer inspiration for every day (excluding Sundays) of the coming church year. For each day there are full references and a quotation from the days set of Scripture readings, challenging commentary on the readings and a collect. The writers include many well known authors and figures in the Church of England and from other Anglican provinces. In future years, Reflections will be published in May each year to extend the selling season further.
