

Baby Shadows: A Reflection On Struggling To Be Happy While Pregnant Post Loss

Originally written for a death anthology, Baby Shadows is a frank, reflective piece which discusses issues affecting a seven month pregnant woman who is struggling to be happy. Past events of a natural miscarriage, failed IVF and baby autopsy collectively gather as shadows over the happiness of a live pregnancy. The machine of the fertility industry is described along with the procedures women endure in trying to conceive. Warning: Anatomical details and infertility procedures are discussed in this work.
