

Stewardship Of Time (Stewardship Starters Series)

There's simply too much to do, too many meetings to attend, too many responsibilities at church, too many deadlines to meet at the office. While many believers have mastered the proper stewardship of their finances, they are enslaved by a lifestyle of biting off more than they can chew. The proper management of time has become a lofty aspiration that never seems attainable. In this small book, well-known leadership speaker and author Stan Toler approaches stewardship and time through an assortment of inspirational quotes from Scripture and the leading thinkers of the present and the past. The inspirational, motivational quotes are interspersed with practical tips for getting a handle on your schedule and taking charge of your time, one of your most precious possessions that can either make or break your effectiveness. Stewardship of Time helps you turn the tide toward greater time efficiency and enhanced peace of mind.
