

The Beginning

Our creator is discovered in many ways and through many situations. Science just chooses one of these to explain our universe. By combining the beliefs of Europe and Africa, and India and China, the common belief offers a more complex view of life, science, and our creator. This complex view makes understanding of everything clearer, permitting us to communicate with our creator to know what direction is best for us in the future. Angus Black is an engineer who uses the information proven from experience to understand the basic cause. He looks at the event before the big bang, the creative event that permits all things to exist, and demonstrates how it is repeated in everything around us. The trilogy of three, the harmony of seven, and the definition of time, distance, and energy creates a language that proves our creators existence. This language is converted to our cultural inheritance, our historic explanations, and our present scientific thinking. We discover why people find benefits from stones, tea, and trees, and realise it is the same reason why we have atoms, life forms, and progression. It doesnt challenge religion or scientific understanding, but gives reasoning and direction without the need for belief, because there is enough evidence to know that this is true. About the Author First-time author Angus Black is a science and technology professor in Glasgow, Scotland. His initial research involved family history, but evolved into wanting to help others look for direction and understanding in life. This combined with a scientific and management and religious education explains why I have produced this book. Publishers website: <http://sbprabooks.com/AngusBlack>
