

The Insiders Guide To Trading Gaps!: Gaps Are The Successful Traders Friend (Make A Fortune Trading Stocks And Options Book 3)

I was scanning my gap list on the morning of October 19th when I saw that IBM had gapped down at the open. I became very excited because it looked like a killer gap opportunity had presented itself. IBM had closed the day before at $142.83. It opened on the 19th at $137.30. So the actual gap was 3.87%. I applied a simple but powerful screening tool I had developed and determined this was a gap I wanted to trade. I bought 5 call contracts at an option price of $6.50 (or $650 per contract). The stock price had rebounded back to $139.94 when I bought my calls. I sold my calls several days later (on the 29th) when the stock price hit $143. I sold my calls for $9.00 (or $900 per contract). In less than one week I had made a 38.4% return! And some people are happy making 7% a year on their money! Was it luck that I found this gap? No. I look for them every day using readily available lists and screens from my broker. How did I decide to trade this gap? Did I flip a coin? No. I applied my simple screen and determined the gap was tradable. Successful gap trading is not an accident! The secret is to know how to spot the tradable gaps and to know when to take action. I have researched the behavior of thousands of gapping stocks. Not a few, not a hundred, but thousands. I discovered that not all gaps are the same. Not all gaps should be traded. And I used my research on gapping stocks to develop a simple but powerful screening tool to help me identify the highest probability trades. My screen features 5 of the most powerful indicators available to any trader. They are: Relative Strength Index (RSI) Stochastics Simple Moving Average Stock Price Daily Volume My screen identifies which gaps are the most likely to close in the near future. And my research has also identified the best time enter the market after a gap. So you see, successful gap trading is not an accident! Great, you say, but how does that help me
