

Virginia Casta (Villegas Novela series) (Spanish Edition)

Virginia Casta, a nearly 30-year-old single woman from Cali, has fallen desperately in love with Martin Chivarria, a man she's only seen twice including once during a tequila-fueled night of revelry. After her grandmother reads her tarot cards and tells her that she'll be married within a year, Virginia is surer than ever that she and Martin are meant to be. The fortune, however, only specified when she would be married, not to whom. A humorous, all-too-real take on the love lives of women in their 30s, this novel portrays couples where one partner loves more than the other, or where one partner is in love and the other isn't at all. Virginia is accompanied in her romantic escapades by her two exotic best friends and finds herself in situations so genuinely and accurately described that they flirt with the autobiographical. Virginia Casta, una soltera calena que bordea los 30 años, se ha enamorado perdidamente de Martin Chivarria, un hombre que ha visto solo un par de veces una de esas durante una noche banada en tequila. Cuando su abuela le lee el tarot y le asegura que se casará dentro de un año, Virginia está más segura que nunca de que ella y Martin terminarán juntos. Pero la profecía se trataba de cuando, y no con quien. Un vistazo humorístico y fiel a las vidas románticas de las treintaneras, esta novela presenta parejas en las que una persona ama más que la otra, o hay uno que ama y otro que no. En estos ir y venir amorosos de Virginia entran en juego también sus dos mejores y exóticas amigas, quienes la acompañan en aventuras descritas con tanta autenticidad que abordan la autobiografía.
